

Multi-Media Fabric Workshop ~ Betty Busby

We will explore many different materials in the class, and I encourage you to bring any artist materials you might be interested in working with.

- Material fee $25 (paid with balance before class begins)
- No sewing machines are necessary. Included in the class is a sample of the non-woven we will be using for the cutter. This is sufficient to execute all of the class projects. Also included is 1 yard of silk habotai.
- Included in the class is the use of my fabric paint.
- Students may also bring their own including Dye-Na-Flo, Seta Silk, Lumiere, Setacolor, or other fabric paints.
- Below are the items that will be necessary for the class
- Sharp scissors,
- Pins
- 6 white plastic kitchen trash can liner bags- 13gallon-unscented please.
- Fusible of your choice– at least one yard-Wonder Under OR Hot Fix Fusible (available on Amazon) recommended Latex gloves for use when painting
- Container for water to rinse brushes
- Water sprayer
- Parchment paper or Teflon sheet (preferred)
- 2 yards minimum of white or light-colored material
- Can be any material, including synthetics.
- A sheet or 2 of foamcore board- the 20x30” size that is sold at Target and most grocery stores is fine.
- multi materials-
- Set of regular acrylic artist paints (any brand)-basic colors, primaries plus black and white
- Recommended brushes are 1” chipping brushes, and large(size8-10) round bristle brushes meant for acrylic paint. Find the chipping brushes in the hardware store, usually in the bottom bins-they are a dollar or so each. You’ll need 3 or 4 of each
- OPTIONAL: Gallon zip lock bags to take home your treasures.
- Apron- at least wear painting clothes.
- Extra fabric to paint
- Some of the techniques work best on silk habotai but you can bring cottons or even synthetics too.
- Other media to bring IF you have them and would like to explore are- Prismacolor colored pencils, fabric paints such as Lumiere, Derwent Ink tense pencil, and markers. I don’t use or recommend regular watercolors or watercolor pencils, and water soluble, oil or regular pastels, and regular oil paint.
